

records holdings as a reference tool and 3 State Archives, i.e. Goa, Orissa and Himachal Pradesh under part (ii) of the scheme, i.e. for preparation of microfilm copies of records considered to be of all India importance. In this connection, he clarified that approval of only two State Governments had been received to the proposals submitted by their State Archives, and it was hoped that the same from the other two State Governments would be forthcoming soon.

After considering the proposals, the Committee decided that request for financial assistance received from all the four State Archives could be considered and funds allocated, The actual disbursement in these two cases should, however, await formal approval from the respective State Governments.

Since the proposals of the Uttar Pradesh and Nagaland State Archives were received without giving out any details, whatsoever, excepting asking for the lump sum grant/Xerox machine, respectively, the Committee decided not to consider them.

Thereafter individual requests of the concerned State Archives were considered and it was unanimously agreed to grant the sums shown against each State Archives for the two Schemes:
